Image Of Freedom —Andover Pictures

What does Andover mean to you? What or who would make a typical Andover photograph?

Can you find an interesting corner in the town which you have never noticed before?

These are suggestions for a contest for photographs of scenes and actions in Andover jointly sponsored by the Addison Gallery and the Townsman, and open to all local residents and those of neighboring towns.

Beginning April 6, the Gallery is showing a collection of photographs called "Image of Freedom." In this exhibition, the photographs collectively compose a picture of America, an image of a country where freedom is enjoyed by the many. The idea of the local competition is to obtain a similar picture of a single New England town.

Eight prizes of defense stamps ranging from $5 to $1 will be awarded the winners, while five honorable mentions will be given the runners-up. The winning entries will be published in the Townsman and exhibited at the Gallery from April 24 to May 8.

All photographs must be taken within the town limits of Andover.

Selectmen Accept Bid On New Police Cruiser

The board of selectmen accepted Tuesday the bid of the C. W. Dillon company of Lawrence on the purchase of a cruising car for the police department, as authorized by the approval of Article 6 at last week's town meeting. The Dillon bid was for $1093.16, with an allowance of $511.16 on the present 1939 Plymouth, for a net cost of $582 plus $30 for installed heaters and defrosters.

"'Twas Only An Irishman's Dream"

Surrettes and Sullivans, Grassis and Kellys, Schultzes and McCartys—sure they were all Irish Tuesday night, when more than 150 pupils of St. Augustine's school turned the classic structure of the Memorial Auditorium into a bit of old Ireland.

"High notions have the goats in Kerry" is an old Irish saying, but no higher than they should be were the notions of the green grass lassies and the Irish fairies who acquitted themselves so creditably. If singing and dancing are the principal components of the Irish personality—and who is so bold as to say they are not—the Eldreds and the Dumonts and the Doucettes are Irish to the core, and the divvil with ancestry.

The whole shindig went off with creditable precision, considering that the performers ranged in age from five to twelve. Every so often, there'd be a little misstep here and an unscheduled encounter there, but the clapping hands of the audience clearly indicated that little things like that, by little things like that, didn't make any difference at all, at all.

And the complete cast was:

Announcer: Arnold Schmidt.

2. Hi, Neighbor (Grade 7, Boys): James McAtamney, Richard Morrissey, Donald Auty, Arthur McCabe, Hugh Eldred, James Daly, Laurence White, Charles Schultz.

3. An Irish Teapot (Grade 1, Boys and Girls): Leonard Eldred, Joseph Lynch.

Confer Here Today On Social Problems

"Social services in the War" is the subject to be discussed at a district committee meeting of the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work being held all day today at the Memorial Hall library.

The principal speaker of the day will be Walter E. Campbell, who, as a member of the planning division of the state Committee on Public Safety, drew up the plans for evacuation and emergency relief which are the basis of the organization of the evacuation division.

The morning session will be on the general subject, "Continuing Social Services Affected by the War," and the afternoon meeting, "Emergency Social Services." The committees on health and social services, family security, evacuation and child care of the state public safety committee will all be represented. Following the morning session, luncheon will be served at the Free Church parish house.

Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, chairman of the Andover Guild, represents Andover on the District conference committee.

Hold Blackout Here Sunday 200 Volunteers On Duty; No Automobiles To Operate; Flares To Simulate Bombing

With more than 200 volunteer workers in various departments on duty patrolling Andover streets, all lights shielded or put out, and with sirens and whistles sounding in the various districts, Andover will experience, during the twenty minute blackout following 9:30 Sunday evening, a close approximation to conditions prevailing during an actual bombing.

Organize State Guard Reserve

A company of reserve guardsmen, intended to replace the local state guard unit in the event that it is called for service in another part of the state, has been requested for Andover by an executive order of Governor Leverett Saltonstall. H. Garrison Holt of 9 Canterbury street, Shawsheen, has been appointed chairman of recruiting in this community, and has been commissioned lieutenant and commanding officer of the local company.

The reserve will probably be organized in a manner similar to the local special weapons company of the regular guard, and will have an enrollment of 45 enlisted men, three officers. Older men are especially urged to enlist.

The unit will be equipped with rifles, and plans are being made to furnish its members with uniforms. There will be plenty of opportunity for men to advance, since promotions will come from the ranks upon the successful completion of an examination held for that purpose.

All male citizens, physically fit and between the ages of 18 and 50, and not in Class I of the Selective Service, are urged to see Lieut. Holt at the court room in the town house each evening between 7:30 and 9:00. For the convenience of prospective enlistees, Selectman J. Everett Collins will make all necessary arrangements during the day-time.

Ex-Governor Spaulding Dies In New Hampshire

Rolland H. Spaulding, governor of New Hampshire for two terms more than 20 years ago, died Saturday at Rochester, N. H., after a brief illness. He was a noted industrialist and banker.

Ex-Gov. Spaulding was a graduate of Phillips Academy, and had lived here for some years prior to his removal to New Hampshire. He built the house on Bartlet street near the Stowe school now occupied by Mrs. Bridget Hurley, and was a prominent member of the South church.

Regional Director Howard Jenkins, Thursday morning, gave his final approval to the sounding of air raid alarms from the central fire station and all of the larger local factories. A large corps of air raid wardens will be on duty, and will make a systematic check on every building in town that is ordinarily lighted. Members of the local blackout committee will be stationed at various points for a first-hand view of Andover's air-raid protection.

Infringements of the blackout regulations, which are summarized below, will be reported by the wardens to their superiors and to the blackout committee.

No vehicles will operate during the blackout except those actually used for the demonstration and for routine safety precautions.

Immediately following the blackout, another A. R. P. rehearsal will

Presence Of Soldiers Speeds Book Campaign

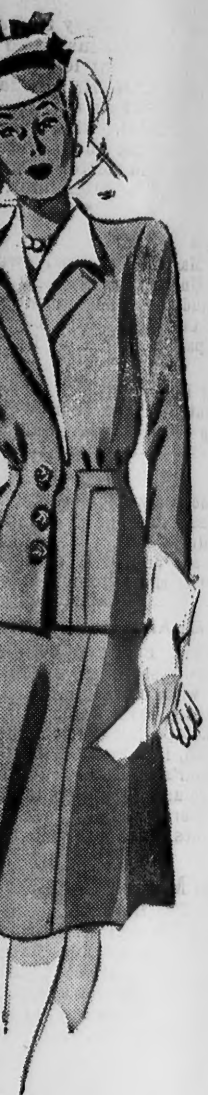

The full import of the Victory Book campaign has been forcibly brought home to Andover residents during the past week, since a large group of soldiers have taken their station at the old CCC camp near the North Reading line. These men want books and magazines, and it will be Andover's immediate responsibility to provide for this strictly local need.

The drive as a whole is lagging behind its appointed goal of ten million books, probably because people generally have not realized what books mean to the men in service. It has been pointed out that "books are bullets that kill boredom," and provide entertainment and recreation when other opportunities are few.

MRS. JOSEPH T. GAGNE

Representatives of 47 units, 4 councils and nearly 4000 members of District 6 of the P. T. A., extending from Pepperell to Amesbury and Methuen to Middleton, and including three Andover organizations, are expected to attend the annual spring conference to be held in the Central school hall, Methuen, next Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 9:30. Supper will be served, reservations for which, at 60 cents each, must be obtained from Mrs. Clifford Chadwick of Methuen or from Mrs. Joseph Gagne, telephone 1067, before Sunday.

The afternoon program will feature a symposium on "The P. T. A. at Work," participants including the district director, the president of the Haverhill council (largest in the district), and Donovan Jones, superintendent of the Winchendon public schools.

During the evening program, beginning at 7:00, addresses will be given by Mrs. Burtis E. Dresser, state president, and by Dr. Henry D. Elkind, noted psychiatrist and medical director of the Massachusetts society for mental hygiene. Dr. Dresser will speak on "Children in Wartime."

Charters will be given, and membership prizes awarded on the basis of percentage of members present, increased membership and distances traveled to attend the conference. Mrs. George G. Brown of Ballardvale, district director, is in charge of the conference program, and she is being assisted by members of the hostess unit. The Andover council is in charge of exhibits and posters, Mrs. Gagne serving as chairman.

Announce Graduation Honors At Punchard

Miss Lois Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson of Chester street, Ballardvale, was named valedictorian of the Punchard senior class in an announcement of graduation honors made by Principal Eugene V. Lovely at a class meeting Monday. She has had a four-year average of 90.94.

Miss Virginia Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Stevens of High Plain road, Andover, was a close runner-up to Miss Henderson with an average of 90.69, and will be salutatorian at the exercises.

Miss Gladys Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of Baker Lane, will deliver the first honor essay, having received a mark of 89.11; and the second essay will be given by Miss Norma Goff, 88.68, daughter of Mrs. George Goff of 5 Elm street.

League Of Women Voters

Milton C. Blanchard, principal of the Junior high school, spoke this afternoon before the League of Women Voters in the music room of the Junior high building. The meeting, second in a series of study groups under the direction of Mrs. John D. Little, was on the function of such a school in a democratic form of government.

The final meeting of the group, to be addressed by Principal Eugene V. Lovely, will be held Wednesday afternoon at the library.

Mrs. Edgar Driscoll, a member of the state milk control board and president of the Boston League of Women Voters, addressed the league's open meeting Tuesday afternoon. She discussed the various economic factors entering into the sale and distribution of milk, which she described as one of the most vital of wartime commodities. She treated her subject from the viewpoints of the farmer, dealer, and consumer.

Burns Concert Nets $113

Net receipts of $113.05 for the successful Burns concert held last month were announced today. In accordance with previous plans, a check for $56.50 has been sent to the Andover chapter of the American Red Cross. The remaining amount will be kept as a reserve fund, to be administered by a board of local clergymen for the benefit of Andover boys in the service.

A whist and bingo party will be held on April 6 by the Arbroath association and the British Empire War Veterans, further plans for which will be announced later.

Blackout Sunday

take place, in which only the report center and the wardens will take part.

Six cars will operate through town, and, at intervals, but in no designated district, red flares, with "incidents," containing information about supposed damage at a particular spot, will be dropped. The incidents will be telephoned in to the report center on Phillips street, which will be in operation and fully manned. Six incidents will be placed around each precinct.

No ambulances or trucks will be used in this rehearsal. Next Thursday, however, a similar program will be held, this time employing full defense facilities. A maximum of 10 flares, with incidents attached, will be dropped at this time. Actual equipment will be sent out to take care of "victims" who will need first aid treatment and the like. This whole operation should simulate closely what may happen should an emergency arise.

About 66 auxiliary policemen, fully equipped, will be on duty during the blackout. Monday night, they had an extensive preparatory drill session, lasting more than an hour and a half, during which they patrolled the main part of town. It is expected that they will keep the same posts for the blackout as were established for them then.

Chief C. Edward Buchan plans to station his 42 auxiliary firemen at the principal alarm boxes throughout town. Their duties will be to watch for fires in the district served by each box.

Instructions issued this week by Chairman Alan T. Polgreen of the local committee on public safety, and Judge Walter C. Tomlinson, chief blackout officer, emphasize the following points:

1. Householders must extinguish all lights in their homes except in rooms which have been so prepared that no light penetrates to the outside.

2. Proprietors of hotels, apartments, and office buildings will be responsible for the blackout in their own structures, and must extinguish all lights except those in places properly blacked out by their occupants with heavy draperies, curtains, heavy paper board or paint. Movie theaters, cafes, etc., will be blacked out by their owners.

3. All outside lights will be extinguished, and all outside activity involving fire will cease. Smoking or lighting matches outdoors will be positively forbidden.

4. No vehicle will be operated on the streets except those essential to civilian defense or to the protection of life and property. At the blackout signal, operators must reduce their speed to 15 miles an hour, drive to the side of the road, and park their cars. They must not park near hospitals, police or fire stations, hydrants, or in any place where there is likely to be emergency activity.

5. All street lights will be extinguished, as well as traffic signals which have not been so shielded that no light travels skyward. Persons in charge of construction work on public roads must protect them by means of watchmen, white markers or shielded lights.

Atty. Polgreen submitted to an appendectomy at a Lawrence hospital Tuesday, and will not be on hand for the blackout. Arrangements are being continued according to plan, however, under the direction of Judge Tomlinson.

Air Raid Wardens

—PRECINCT THREE—

(The Townsman continues, with Precinct 3, the precinct by precinct list of local air raid wardens compiled as part of its policy of assisting in any way in the field of public information during the present crisis.

In last week's list, for Precinct 4, the wording "senior warden" was unintentional. The different warden's posts, however, are all located at the homes of the people mentioned, though they are not directly in charge of such posts.

The warden organization of Precinct 3, because certain sections of Shawshen are so thickly settled, places more emphasis on sections than on wardens' posts. The present listing is therefore by section.)

THE ALL OUT EFFORT

New Tenants At Forest

Harold Parker state forest, idle and quiet since the departure of its CCC company and its army cook school some months ago, had new tenants last week, still men in the familiar khaki uniform. They were army men, of course, members of the 704th Military Police battalion stationed till now at Camp Edwards.

Approximately 215 officers and men are now stationed at the forest. All are former members of the National Guard or regular army called back since the outbreak of the war, and all have already undergone four weeks of intensive training at Camp Edwards. Two weeks at Harold Parker will complete the course, and then the men may be assigned to protect vital utilities and defense industries in this area.

Just what will be their assignments, either in Andover or its neighboring communities, cannot be definitely disclosed. The Lawrence airport will probably be among the points guarded, since it is believed that military police are shortly to be assigned to such duty throughout the state.

Defense School Opens

Members of the local women's defense corps having voted almost unanimously to affiliate themselves with the local civilian defense units at a meeting at Punchard high school last Thursday evening, a new training school by the organization opened Monday evening in the high school.

About 30 local women attended the first session of the school, which is being headed by Captain Mrs. Charles D. Thompson, chairman of the women's units on the local committee on public safety, and Mrs. Charles D. McDuffie of 260 North Main street, Shawsheen. Future sessions of the school will be held on Mondays and Thursdays.

Boston Minister To Speak At A.P.C. Vesper Service

A distinguished author and clergyman addresses the annual vesper service of the Alpha Phi Chi sorority of the South church Wednesday evening at 8:00 in the church vestry, arrangements for which are in charge of Miss Evelyn R. Robinson.

Dr. Robert Cummins of Boston will speak on "Democracy in Religion." Born in 1897 at Sidney, Ohio, he received degrees from Miami, the University of Cincinnati, University of Southern California, and the Pacific Unitarian school for the ministry. He has also studied at Ohio State and Oriel College, and at Oxford.

Dr. Cummins began his career as executive secretary of the YMCA at the University of Miami, and from 1922 to 1924 was director of the Boon-Itt Memorial Institute at Bangkok, Siam. Ordained in 1926, he has been pastor of the First church at Cincinnati and the Throop Memorial church at Pasadena, Calif. Since 1938, he has been general superintendent of Universalist churches, with headquarters in Boston.

During the World War, he was a corporal in a heavy artillery regiment. He is the author of "John Henry Newman, Man and Mystic."

To Speak Before Legion

Miss Betty Costello, senior at Punchard High School, who represented the local American Legion post in the organization's recent state-wide oratorical competitions, will give the address she prepared for the contest at a joint meeting of the Legion and its auxiliary in the post rooms tonight. Refreshments are to be served at the conclusion of the program.

Semi-finals in the contest were held Thursday evening in the Memorial Auditorium before an audience estimated at 400. Richard Poirer of Gloucester high school was judged the winner, and is to take part in the state finals at Faneuil Hall, Boston, this Sunday. A prize of $5.00 was presented to him by the local Legion post.

The ladies' auxiliary to the legion will hold a St. Patrick's whist party tomorrow evening in the post rooms, play to begin at 8:00. Mrs. William Buchan, assisted by Miss Ethel Hilton, is conducting arrangements.

Raidy, president; Miss Margaret Sullivan, vice-president; Miss Mary McNulty, secretary; Miss Bridie O'Beirne, treasurer; and Miss Marion Connolly, sacristan.

Inter-Church Rally Held Here Today

MISS HELEN H. SMITH

A large group attended the inter-church rally, held today at the South church for parishes in Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence. During the morning service, Edward R. Broad of Boston showed a technicolor motion picture, "The Healing of M'Vondo." Mr. Broad has served for some years as New England secretary of the American Mission to Lepers. This afternoon's speaker was Miss Helen Huntington Smith of Fukien, China, who described her thrilling experiences as a teacher in a Chinese school since the beginning of the Japanese invasion. She is to be the guest of the Junior church this Saturday, and will speak at the morning service at the South church Sunday.

JUNIOR KING'S DAUGHTERS

The next meeting of the Junior King's Daughters will be held Tuesday evening at 7:15 at the South church.

The Boys In Service

George Carney of Lawrence, formerly a local resident, has been named a captain in the U. S. army. He was inducted into service a year ago with the Lawrence National Guard unit, with which he was then serving with the rank of regimental sergeant-major, and was promoted to lieutenant a few months ago.

John B. Collins, son of Selectman and Mrs. J. Everett Collins of 35 Summer street, has recently been elevated to the rank of sergeant at the Boston army base, where he has been stationed for more than a year. He is a graduate of Punchard, where he was a letterman in football, and is a former member of the Andover Male Choir.

Donald M. Surette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Surette of 4 Locke street and former Townsman photographer, has recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant at Albrook Field, Canal Zone. Another former Townsman employee, David R. Petrie, who recently entered service, has been transferred from Fort Devens to Keeslar Field, Biloxi, Miss., where he is a member of the air corps. Frank O'Brien, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brien of Phillips street, and a former athlete at Phillips Academy, is also stationed at Biloxi.

November Club To Hear Timely Lecture On India

The program was planned last September, when the Japanese were chiefly remarkable for cheap trinkets; it couldn't be more timely, however, if it had been whipped up yesterday. For, on Monday afternoon at 3:00, November Club members and their guests will hear a lecture on India, never more prominent in the news than at present.

Delivering what is described as a vivid, pungent and colorful lecture and demonstration will be Ramkrishna Shahu Modak and his wife, Manorana Modak, of India.

During the lecture, Mr. Modak will demonstrate winding a turban, draping a dhoti (trousers), illustrate Hindu and Mohammedan worship and the Hindu marriage ceremony, and sing East Indian songs.

Mrs. Modak will enact an ordinary household routine, fetching water from the well, grinding wheat, cooking meals, draping a garment called the sari, and modeling Hindu and Mohammedan costumes. Both Mr. and Mrs. Modak will show the dinner etiquette of their native country.

The last lecture by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, previously scheduled for next Wednesday, has been postponed to April 15.

Will You Be Guilty of "Too Little And Too Late"?

Don't say: "It can't happen here." Sugar, rubber, automobiles, any number of necessities, are being rationed. Fuel oil is being restricted. Why shouldn't COAL be next?

The government has warned against a possible shortage of transportation, if not of the coal itself. Federal authorities are saying: "BUY COAL NOW!"

P. T. A. Members See Drawings By Children

A very successful St. Patrick's Day tea was held by the Central Parent Teachers' Association in the cooking room of the Junior High School Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00. All parents and teachers of children attending the Stowe School were invited to attend.

Two very decorative green centerpieces, colorful green and yellow candles and also shamrock napkins arranged on the tea tables added greatly to their festive appearance. Mrs. Frederick M. Boyce and Mrs. Otis Severance poured.

The serving of the tea was in charge of Miss Frances Hoskins who was assisted by the following girls and boys of the Junior and Senior high schools: John Tacy, Dorothy Finno, Victor Shorten, Jocelyn White, Henrietta Dembko-ski, Josephine Coolidge, Claire Er-zin, Barbara Johnson, Ellen Pitman and Cynthia Black.

Mrs. E. Douglas Pitman was in charge of the hostesses, who included Mrs. Gordon Elliot, Mrs. Charles Spinney, Mrs. Jeremiah O'Connor, Mrs. Richard Whipple, Mrs. Frederick Gould, Mrs. Robert Mower, Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin, Mrs. Irving Humphries, Mrs. Roland Denancourt and Mrs. Daniel Naylor.

At this tea the Stowe Art Club made its first public appearance. Miss Alice M. Olliff, director of art, explained that recognition for good drawings in major projects during the school year was made by the awarding of commendation cards in art. To express the procedure briefly, it could be said that a child who included the various art principles explained to him for a certain problem and developed in his drawing, into a neat and orderly expression, becomes entitled to a commendation card.

This system for creating greater interest in art began a year ago in January. From that time through June, it was possible for the children to obtain six cards. Those who did so, became eligible for membership in the Art Club and were presented with a felt emblem.

The club meets for one period every other week. At that time, various art problems, appreciation lessons, crafts, trips to the Addison Gallery of Art, the Andover Historical Society and sketching trips are arranged for their enjoyment. Here a group with like interests may work together.

Miss Polly Black, president of the Stowe Art Club, explained some of the features of the club and then introduced its members: Monteville Peck, Winfield Sides, Patricia Black, Robert Dimlick, Ethel Hibbert, Robert Bachmann, Jeanne Kenney, Chester Dimlick, Mary Glata, Charles Souther, Jane Draper, Joan Draper, Polly Black, Jane Lynch, Russell Doyle.

Each artist gave a short incident from a story or historical event. Then he turned to his easel and with crayons represented his own idea of the story. The subjects were chosen by the children and dealt with matters of personal interest. They were unrestricted in their drawings and free to express themselves as they wished.

From the comments heard during the time that the children were sketching, we feel sure that many of the parents were thrilled with the creative art of the youngsters of the Stowe Art Club. Parents and friends are invited to come and see the sketches in the Art Studio of the Andover Junior High School.

Slacks Out At Punchard

A solemn conclave of Punchard girl students, last Friday afternoon, solved one of the more perplexing problems arising from the current war, and solved it in a thoroughly democratic way. To some 200 students, in open meeting, was submitted an article "To see if Punchard's girl population will give up wearing slacks to school for the duration," and the "ayes" resounded through Punchard halls.

The matter had previously been left entirely in the girls' hands by Principal Eugene V. Lovely. Adopted at the meeting were the following resolutions:

"Whereas, we feel that slacks are not in good taste for general school dress, and

"Whereas, there is no economy in the wearing of slacks at school, and "Whereas, we feel that it is not to the best interest of our school to wear slacks,

"We, the girls of Punchard high school, hereby resolve that the wearing of slacks to classes shall not become the practice."

Emily Poynter, a member of the freshman class, was among the students matriculated at Pomona College, Calif., in ceremonies held last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Poynter of 6 School street.

TONIGHT—Whist Party For Local Service Men

Turned over to the V. F. W.'s comfort committee, which is currently sending weekly shipments of comfort kits to local men serving with the armed forces, will be the entire proceeds of a whist party to be held this evening in the post rooms in the Musgrove building.

The whist party is the first time the post has solicited funds from outside its own organization since it began the project of sending cigarettes and candy to local service men some months ago. The results so far have exceeded its greatest expectations. Persons wishing to contribute to the drive are invited to leave their donations with Adjutant Robert V. Deyermund or the post treasurer.

In charge of tonight's party are Commander Walter Ebersbach, Mr. and Mrs. George Symonds, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cates, Quartermaster Alex Blamire, and Adjutant Deyermund.

TOMORROW—Old Homes Discussed

Centuries-old homes in West Andover's historic Osgood district will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Mrs. Glen Grant before the Andover Historical Society at its Main street headquarters at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Her subject will be "The Story a House can tell—Its History, Ways of Life and Its Architects."

A social hour will be held after the meeting, and the public is invited to attend.

CURRENT—Exhibit Posters At Junior High

An exhibition of animal posters is currently being held in the art room of the Junior high school, to which the public is invited. The posters represent the best work from each grade of all of the Andover schools, and will be sent to Boston March 27 to enter the M. S. P. C. A. humane poster contest.

Another exhibition of block prints and dry points by Donald Wither-

stine accompanies this local exhibition. Mr. Witherstine, a nationally known artist who has exhibited in many outstanding galleries in this country, resides at present in Provincetown. As he plans to enter the service, he has been kind enough to offer a group of his prints to the Art Club as a means of assisting the pupils in the local schools to help create an art scholarship fund.

TOMORROW—Spring Dance By Punchard Senior Class

Spring is in the air, though you wouldn't have thought so last Saturday, and Punchard's senior class plans to celebrate the event with a dance at the auditorium tomorrow evening, open to alumni and students only. Harold Phinney will supply the music from 8:00 to 11:30.

James Collins heads the committee on arrangements, which also includes Olga LaRosa, Ann Scamlon, David Markert, George Kelly, Robert McDonald, Donald Haigh, Helen Delaney, and Rebecca Stevens.

MARCH 27—Minstrel Show By Slattery Class

The annual minstrel show of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free church, which has provided so much fun in years past, is being planned for next Friday evening at 8:00 in the Memorial Auditorium.

APRIL 7—Latin Dancer At Phillips

Sarita, well-known Spanish and Latin-American dancer, will appear at George Washington Hall on April 7 at 8:00. Tickets at 55 cents are now on sale at Phillips Academy.

Sarita has had three coast-to-coast tours in this country, has appeared at New York's famous Rainbow room and at the Vanderbilt theater; has given two Town Hall recitals in New York, and one in Jordan Hall. She has also appeared in solo dances in Symphony Hall with the Boston Symphony orchestra at a benefit evening of the Pops.

Noteworthy among her tramping experiences is a "command performance" before President and Mrs. Roosevelt—not so much for the recital itself as for what preceded it. At the precise hour at which the White House car was due to arrive, there stood her husband, one Mr. Romero, without a dress shirt to his name. Alone in a strange city, at night, with an appointment with the President and a shirtless husband built to one of the odd sizes to say the least, it was a painful situation. A few pins and an ill-fitting garment did the trick, however, and if Mr. Romero did look like a head waiter at the recital, neither the President nor his wife seemed to notice it.

Births

A daughter, last Thursday at the Lawrence General hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Homenstein of Lowell street.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs.
Francis J. Rodericks of Lincoln
Circle, Tuesday, at the Lawrence General hospital. The mother was formerly Miss Irene Wells, a teacher in the local public schools.

Birthday Celebration

Loring Batchelder of Argilla road, celebrated his fifteenth birthday
Monday at the Lawrence General Hospital, where he is confined with a broken leg. A small party was held in his hospital room with a birthday cake and all the other party fixings. Members of his family who helped him celebrate were his mother, Mrs. Sidney S. Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Batchelder and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Batchelder of Waltham.

Loring was recently honored by his classmates at Junior High School by being elected President of the school.

Personals

Miss Margaret G. Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Little of Shawsheen road and a freshman at Smith College, has been elected to the staff of the publication
"Scan," and is also a member of the press board.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnard and son William have returned from several days' vacationing in Yardley, Pa.

Edward Nunstrom has returned to his Chandler road home after a two weeks' visit with his daughter in Miami, Fla.

Warren Lewis of Lowell street and Gerard Twomey of Haverhill street, spent the week-end as guests of friends at Amherst college.

Walter Lewis, son of Herbert Lewis of Lowell street, has accepted a position as farm security representative for Essex and Middlesex counties, with offices in Lowell.

Pvt. John Thomas, who is now stationed at Mitchell Field, L. I., spent the week-end with his parents on Lowell street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Lewis attended the 28th annual Farmers' and Homemakers' day at Essex Aggie Wednesday.

Victory Books

Massachusetts ranks third in the number of books collected throughout the country. Locally, more than 3000 books have been collected, 2191 of which have been transported to Fort Devens by the Red Cross Motor Corps.

The drive will end officially on April 1, but practically, not until the goal had been reached. The library will remain a collection center for the duration, and books can be picked up by contacting it, telephone 314.

Books particularly desired are adventure, western and mystery fiction; travel and biography, current events, plays and poetry, and recent technical books.

News Of Old Andover

50 YEARS AGO. All of 375 votes were cast in the town election, the polls being open only about four hours in those days. Everyone was re-elected, including Selectman John S. Stark... The West Church, at its annual meeting, decided to look into the matter of church ventilation... The Phillippian editors were to have their first annual banquet in the Mansion House... Chief of Police Cheever arrested two intoxicated Lowell men who had driven their buggy along several of the town's best sidewalks... They played The Phonograph in the town hall again. Many who had heard its first concert jumped at the chance to be there again... Professor Young, astronomical lecturer at Abbot, discovered that the public was as interested in the sun as in the moon; equal numbers came to his successive lectures on them...
H. H. Tyer was up and about again

25 YEARS AGO. Charles S. Warden and David L. Coutts attended a reception to the celebrated Fatty Arbuckle in Boston... You had to get up early to attend town meeting in those days; Alfred L. Ripley opened the voting at 6 a.m. Harry M. Eames was easily re-elected selectman, but Thomas E. Rhodes was re-elected to the B. P. W. by only nine votes, Dr. Edward C. Conroy to the school committee by only 19
... Town meeting also adopted a resolution commending President Wilson for his "uncompromising stand in severing diplomatic relations" with Germany. Meanwhile, in his second inaugural address, the chief executive warned that mere armed neutrality might not last much longer... Local school teachers were granted a wage increase of $50 a year... Dean Charles Brown of Yale, who had promised to name the greatest man of the 19th century for Andover, nominated A.
Lincoln... "Pack Up Your Troubles" was a record-breaking, record-selling sensation.

10 YEARS AGO. A recount decided the winner in the town clerk contest between George Winslow and Charles Bowman, the former's plurality being only three votes...
Jimmy Flannery was putting the last touches on St. Augustine's Irish Night, which was to feature Pete Winters in "Can He Love Me Like Kelly Can"... Citizens were organizing against the school for the feeble-minded, to come up before Monday's town meeting. Another controversial matter was the placing of local policemen under civil service... The new Taxpayers' Association was trying for a membership of 250... Old William Collier, Sr., was appearing in the movie
"Stepping Sisters"... A New York reporter gave a fine writeup to Howard Walker, four-sport man at Governor Dummer.

TONIGHT—Whist Party For Local Service Men

Turned over to the V. F. W.'s comfort committee, which is currently sending weekly shipments of comfort kits to local men serving with the armed forces, will be the entire proceeds of a whist party to be held this evening in the post rooms in the Musgrove building.

The whist party is the first time the post has solicited funds from outside its own organization since it began the project of sending cigarettes and candy to local service men some months ago. The results so far have exceeded its greatest expectations. Persons wishing to contribute to the drive are invited to leave their donations with Adjutant Robert V. Deyermund or the post treasurer.

In charge of tonight's party are Commander Walter Ebersbach, Mr. and Mrs. George Symonds, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cates, Quartermaster Alex Blamire, and Adjutant Deyermund.

TOMORROW—Old Homes Discussed

Centuries-old homes in West Andover's historic Osgood district will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Mrs. Glen Grant before the Andover Historical Society at its Main street headquarters at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Her subject will be "The Story a House can tell—Its History, Ways of Life and Its Architects."

A social hour will be held after the meeting, and the public is invited to attend.

CURRENT—Exhibit Posters At Junior High

An exhibition of animal posters is currently being held in the art room of the Junior high school, to which the public is invited. The posters represent the best work from each grade of all of the Andover schools, and will be sent to Boston March 27 to enter the M. S. P. C. A. humane poster contest.

Another exhibition of block prints and dry points by Donald Wither-

stine accompanies this local exhibition. Mr. Witherstine, a nationally known artist who has exhibited in many outstanding galleries in this country, resides at present in Provincetown. As he plans to enter the service, he has been kind enough to offer a group of his prints to the Art Club as a means of assisting the pupils in the local schools to help create an art scholarship fund.

TOMORROW—Spring Dance By Punchard Senior Class

Spring is in the air, though you wouldn't have thought so last Saturday, and Punchard's senior class plans to celebrate the event with a dance at the auditorium tomorrow evening, open to alumni and students only. Harold Phinney will supply the music from 8:00 to 11:30.

James Collins heads the committee on arrangements, which also includes Olga LaRosa, Ann Scanlon, David Markert, George Kelly, Robert McDonald, Donald Haigh, Helen Delaney, and Rebecca Stevens.

MARCH 27—Minstrel Show By Slattery Class

The annual minstrel show of the Margaret Slattery class of the Free church, which has provided so much fun in years past, is being planned for next Friday evening at 8:00 in the Memorial Auditorium.

APRIL 7—Latin Dancer At Phillips

Sarita, well-known Spanish and Latin-American dancer, will appear at George Washington Hall on April 7 at 8:00. Tickets at 55 cents are now on sale at Phillips Academy.

Sarita has had three coast-to-coast tours in this country, has appeared at New York's famous Rainbow room and at the Vanderbilt theater; has given two Town Hall recitals in New York, and one in Jordan Hall. She has also appeared in solo dances in Symphony Hall with the Boston Symphony orchestra at a benefit evening of the Pops.

Noteworthy among her trouping experiences is a "command performance" before President and Mrs. Roosevelt—not so much for the recital itself as for what preceded it. At the precise hour at which the White House car was due to arrive, there stood her husband, one Mr. Romero, without a dress shirt to his name. Alone in a strange city, at night, with an appointment with the President and a shirtless husband built to one of the odd sizes to say the least, it was a painful situation. A few pins and an ill-fitting garment did the trick, however, and if Mr. Romero did look like a head waiter at the recital, neither the President nor his wife seemed to notice it.

BALLARDVALE

Men's Club Meeting

The newly-formed men's club of the Union Congregational church will hold their first meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. George Sparks, president, will conduct the meeting. The speaker will be Bryan Colby, leader of the 4-H club movement in Essex county, who will show pictures of his work. All men of the parish are invited to these meetings. Refreshments will be served.

Friendly Guild Notes

A successful steamed clam supper was held Thursday evening by the members of the Friendly Guild.

On Friday evening, the regular monthly meeting will be held with reports given and plans made for future activities.

P. T. A. Notes

Miss Frances Collins, gymnasium instructor for the Andover schools, is to be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Ballardvale P. T. A. on April 2. Mrs. Allison Morse, a former teacher at Bradlee school, will give a group of songs and lead the group in community singing.

All members of the Ballardvale P. T. A. wishing transportation to the meeting in Methuen next Wednesday, are asked to get in touch with Mrs. James Nicoll, Mrs. Michael Bell or Mrs. George Brown before Sunday. The afternoon session is at 1:30, the supper at 5:30, and the evening session at 7 o'clock. It is hoped that all members will be able to attend one or all sessions.

Personals

Mrs. Harry Wells of Dryden, Me., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moody of Andover street.

Mrs. Walter MacTammany of Andover street visited her daughter in Cohasset over the week-end.

Howard Colbath of River street is recovering at the Lawrence General hospital from a recent illness.

Dr. Mary Cushman To Speak At Vale Church

DR. MARY CUSHMAN

Ballardvale was host to one of the most remarkable women of our time, last Thursday evening, and will be again this coming Tuesday when Dr. Mary F. Cushman speaks at 7:30 in the Union Congregational church.

Born in Boston, the daughter, granddaughter and great granddaughter of Congregational ministers, Dr. Cushman graduated from Boston University medical school in 1892 and was surgical interne for a year in the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital, after which she did graduate work at the New York Post Graduate medical school.

There followed 29 years of private, hospital and sanatorium practice in Maine and this state, until, in 1920, she was appointed to the State Board of Registration of Medicine in Maine, the first woman to hold that post in any state.

At the age of 52, after already having carved out a notable career in medicine, release from family responsibilities gave her the opportunity to attain what had, none the less, been her lifelong ambition, and she shortly became a medical missionary in Africa.

She reached Chilesso, West Africa, at 10 o'clock one night; at seven the next morning, she was already at work in the dispensary. Since then, she has trained medical and surgical helpers among the native young men and women. She has substituted for the adobe grass-roofed dispensary and grass huts which formed her first hospital, a modern hospital building serving an area as large as Massachusetts and Connecticut combined. In the last three months before her return, she treated over 4000 persons, and more than 40,000 prescriptions were given out last year.

Dr. Cushman's first address was very well received by a large congregation, which examined with interest her slides of Africa and a large exhibition of curios. Andover residents are invited to attend her address Tuesday evening.

George G. Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown of Andover street, Ballardvale and a student at Western Carolina Teachers' college, was on the Alpha honor roll for the second semester, and the Dean's list for both the first and second semesters at the college. He is a graduate of Pynchard with the class of 1940 and of Hebron Academy, '41, and won letters in baseball and football at both schools.

Two Local Boys Sugar In Vermont

It's maple sugar time in Vermont, and because the war situation has drafted most of the young men in the Green Mountain state, two Andover boys are helping out at a sugar place high on the hills near Cabot. They are Jack and Bill, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Eastham of Bartlett street.

Jack and Bill were attracted somewhat by the so-called glamour of sugaring-off, but they also saw an opportunity to replace farm help who had joined the army or had been attracted to highly-paying war industry jobs. Through Goddard College, at Plainfield, Vt., they made contact with Will C. Walker, one of the state's largest producers of maple products. Walker, who had been unable to get all the help he could use, was glad to take the boys into his home for the duration of the academy vacation.

Walker had begun to tap when the boys went to work Monday morning, but he still had several thousand pails to put out, and expected to begin boiling sap in a few days. He operates two sugaring houses, and uses the most modern methods to produce a high grade of sugar and syrup which goes to a premium market. The two boys have one of the finest places in the state to watch the process, and to help in an industry that sorely needed help this year when cane sugar is to be rationed.

In addition to his sugaring business, farmer Walker is one of the officials of the Cabot Co-operative Creamery Association, which daily ships milk into Shawsheen Village, and while the Eastham boys had no previous knowledge of this, Mr. Walker is well known in Andover and vicinity through frequent visits here on creamery business.

The early part of the maple season is devoted to the making of syrup, as the early run of sap produces a better flavor and color. But the boys hope to do some sugaring, using later sap, before they return home. Mrs. Walker promises to introduce them, before they leave, to a Vermont treat—hot doughnuts and hot maple syrup for breakfast; and the woods in which they are working still have hip-deep snow, so they will enjoy "sugar-on-snow" any time they feel so disposed.

Jack Eastham plans to go back to Vermont next summer to help in the farm-labor need, and will be located at a summer work camp at Goddard College, from which boys and girls will be distributed daily to work on farms. Farmers in Vermont need help—even unskilled help—so badly that they are willing to pay fairly good wages during sugaring and next summer's harvests.

Plan To Award Medal

The monthly dinner meeting of the Merrimac Valley Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution will be held Wednesday at 6:45 p. m., at Luther Witham's Andover Cottage on South Main street. Plans to award an S. A. R., Good Citizenship medal to a high school pupil in Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence will be discussed.

Any man 18 years of age or over who believes his ancestors served in the American Revolution is welcome to attend, as no reservations need be made.

Phillips Summer Session To Stress Democratic Principles

The Phillips Academy summer session, which will be held from July 6 to August 29 to help American youth prepare more effectively for war service, will conduct, in addition to its academic and athletic program, a course in the principles of American democracy, its director, Wilbur J. Bender, has announced. In the belief that the future strength and effectiveness of young Americans will depend not only upon their intellectual ability and physical toughness, but also upon their faith in and understanding of the American democratic tradition, a program of talks and discussion groups has been developed to give the students a more intelligent faith in the cause for which they will fight.

This course in the principles of democracy, which all those enrolled in the Summer session will take, will be made up of a series of talks given at morning assembly by members of the faculty and specially-invited speakers from outside, to be followed by open discussion. In addition, at other free times during the day, students will meet to discuss further the subjects raised at the morning meeting. Student participation will be stressed throughout, and the undergraduates will be encouraged to pursue reading and research on their own initiative.

The subject matter of the course will be generally concerned with the development of American principles, the origin and nature of the present crisis, and the problems which will face the United States at the close of the conflict. Such topics as the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, local government as seen in the Town of Andover, and biographical sketches of great Americans will be included. Finally, an attempt will be made to show how the American spirit appears in the fields of literature and music, through the reading of classic American authors and the singing of indigenous American folk music.

Andover Service Club

David G. Jones, business manager of radio station WLAW in Lawrence, will be the speaker at the bi-weekly Service Club supper meeting next Thursday night. His address will be titled, "Radio and Its Relation to Business."

Frank G. Volpe, assistant attorney-general who was originally scheduled to speak, has been forced to cancel the engagement.

Miss Margaret Cargill of Stevens street is a patient at the Lawrence General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Grew and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Green of 167 Main street are visiting New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hadley of North Main street have moved to Detroit, Mich., where he has accepted a position with the Ford Company.

WEDDINGS

Fettes-Stott

At a pretty candlelight ceremony at the bride's home at 7:30 last Wednesday evening, Miss Irene Marion Stott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram S. Stott of 403 North Main street, became the bride of Frank Nicoll Fettes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston Fettes of 5 Buxton court. Rev. W. Randolph Thornton, pastor of the Parker street Methodist church, Lawrence, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore an aqua silk jersey with a corsage of gardenias. Miss Jeanie Mitchell, a close friend, was her only attendant, and wore a rose beige street dress with a corsage of spring flowers.

The groom's mother wore a brown crepe dress with a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. Stott wore an aqua crepe costume with a corsage of camellias.

James Fettes, brother of the groom, served as best man at the ceremony.

Following a reception at the home, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York. Mrs. Fettes will reside temporarily in Shawsheen while Mr. Fettes is in service.

The bride, a graduate of Punchard high school and the Lawrence Academy of Beauty Culture, is at present employed in Andover. The groom also attended Punchard high school, and is at present on active duty with the U. S. Navy as a gunner's mate, first class.

MARRIAGE INTENTION

Alfred S. Smeltzer, Andover street, and Theresa E. Doucette, 54 Lowell street, Wilmington.

The Andover Male Choir will sing Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church, Salem. Members are asked to be at the club rooms promptly at 3:00.

THEY'RE LEFFINGWELL IN FLOURTOWN, PA.

Nothing is more mysterious than the American propensity for finding strange names for familiar places. A glance over the addresses of some of this year's Phillips Academy students bears out this contention. One of them, for instance, lives in Flourtown, Pa. Others reside on Zaccheus Mead lane, Riddle road, and Felt street. More picturesque addresses are Napoleon Boulevard, Glenn road, and Holly Lane. Strange images are conjured up in our minds by Handsyde court, Wydown terrace, Iron Mountain road, Australian avenue, Longue Vue drive, and the Club Leffingwell.

More prosaic residences are situated on Heckle street, Neck road, and Avenue Dr. Ashford. We'd prefer to live on Fox Run Lane, or the Old Mill road, or Indian Head road, though one student lives on just plain "Boulevard," another on "Fairway," still another "Hundreds road," and the last poor fellow in good old Smithtown, Long Island.

Most desirable residence: Hope Ranch Park. Least desirable residence: Asylum avenue.

Dear America:

My son... left today. I don't know where he's going... he doesn't know where he's going... but he's gone now.

He's a grand boy, my son. He's much like yours, perhaps, and yours, and yours. He's young... he was a very, very little boy when that first World War was fought. Its stark reality to us is, well, just history to him... the magnificent hope at its finish is failure, and a challenge, to him. He's gone now, to make sure this time, that the hope his going gives us will not end in another failure.

Yes, he's brave, like your boy... he's clean-cut... he's upright, and straightforward, and eager and determined and filled with a desire to fight a good fight, and to win a good victory.

A few years ago, he was carefree, with little more important in his mind than winning a football game, or going to a dance. It's not a football game now he wants to win... and that girl he went to a dance with... well, he had to leave her, too... and it wasn't easy.

I'm giving that grand boy to you, America. Please give yourself to him. He's got the courage, he's got the grit, he's got the fiery enthusiasm and the sure knowledge that his cause is right... all those he's giving us. Please, America, please give him what he needs. Please sacrifice, please work to give my boy those tools without which his courage and his devotion to these United States will be mere sacrifices on the altar of a Nation that took its task too lightly, that failed to realize that it takes more than courage... it takes machines, too. Please give them to him... he needs them... and we need him.

He has taken up our quarrel with the foe; to him from eager hands we'll throw the tools, and he'll hold them high. I know he will. He'll fight his heart out for us; let's not break faith with him.

For my boy... and for your boy... work, America, work as you've never worked before.

A Mother

Now's The Time

One of the best things the recent special session of the state legislature did was to give Governor Saltonstall power to make curtailments of expenditures in state government, and this power the Governor has used wisely. Some seven million dollars he has already saved for the Commonwealth, at a time when we certainly need savings.

No vote similar to this was taken at town meeting, but every officeholder, every public servant today, has the same responsibility as that vote gave Governor Saltonstall. True, we granted sums of money for the various departments, but this year, rather than following the customary practice of seeing how close to the limit the departments can come, they should try to see how much they can save. The department that returns the biggest proportionate balance to free cash next December is the one that is thinking most seriously of the tremendous problems that Andover, with every town in the country, will face next year.

It's not money we want to save; it's our lives, our freedom. We'll have to give up things, a good many more things than we've ever given up before, but the reward is worth it. We're not doing so well in this war to date, and the enemy is. The enemy for years gave up things, so that with their resultant military prowess, they could take the things that we've had and enjoyed. We've enjoyed them so much, we've prized them so much that we'll be willing to forsake them for a short time in order to retain them for a long time.

It's now, not next December, that we should start to cut. Every single department in this town should go through their budget very carefully, and plan to cut, cut, cut, with just one idea in mind: releasing enough of the taxpayers' money to be used more effectively in defeating the enemy. We can buy something for the army with what we spend on some of our town luxuries.

Every department is honor-bound to do this, and to do it now. And when the war is won, those officials who helped in this way will be able to feel that they too have done their bit. And if the war is lost, the officials who spent money unnecessarily, will be responsible—they will be the slackers.

A Money-Saving Vote

Probably one of the greatest money-saving votes the town has ever passed was the one offered by Selectman Hardy to dispense with the old policy of road acceptances with resultant purchasing of water mains and large expenditures for bringing the roads into proper shape. The practice originally started apparently in Shawsheen Village, when the town accepted a number of the new streets in that development. However, in this case the town was asked to accept a finished product, and very little money had to be spent by the town.

However, the practice was later abused, and it had become quite a headache. Selectman Hardy investigated and found that Andover was very nearly unique in this practice, and the town meeting ban was the result. It gives warning to all future developers that the second Monday in March is not the day that Santa climbs down the chimney. They are going to have to present the town with something in pretty good condition before the town will accept it.

Only two of these being Princeton road the selectmen by the town. be accepted more houses present state happened in been torn do with the ro a private dri cally in Princeton accepted just improvement the developm town official possible to tion.

The former should not be accepted until such time as more houses are erected. In its present state all that has really happened is that one house has been torn down and another put up, with the road still just in effect a private driveway, although physically in acceptable condition. Princeton road, however, should be accepted just as soon as some more improvements are made, because the development is well along. The town officials should do everything possible to help out in this situa- tion.

LIBRARY NOTES

The following books are sug- gested for Lenten reading. They may all be borrowed from the Li- brary.

I am persuaded—Julian Duguid. A startling assertion of faith in Christianity and the account of the process by which he has reached this decision is told well in this book by a well-known writer.

Keys of the Kingdom—A. J. Cron- in. A serious novel of the noble inspiring life of a Scottish priest who serves his parish more with love and understanding than with strict adherence to religious tenets.

The Nazarene—Sholem Asch. A reverent unforgettable story of the life of Christ, as told from three angles; that of a Roman, of the disci- ple Judas Iscariot, and of Joseph, a young man of the people of Jeru- salem.

Women of the Bible—H. V. Mor- ton. As delightfully written as his travel books, the author has out- lined the characters of several Bible women.

The New Testament in basic Eng- lish. Not intended to compete with or replace the Authorized Version, this new Basic English version has a sure and satisfying place in the reading of those with a limited English vocabulary. Some of the foremost Bible scholars of today have assisted in the work of re- ducing this translation to less than 1000 different words.

Bible plants for American gar- dens—E. A. King. A pleasant idea for Lenten reading is this study of plants, vines and flowers mentioned in the Bible, with suggestions for their culture in today's gardens.

The faith by which the church lives—Georgia Harkness. The au- thor, professor of applied theology at Garrett Biblical Institute, presents here "the faith by which the church lives, not that by which it argues."

These shared His power—Edwin M. Poteat. In an interesting ar- rangement, contrasting the Bible story version and the same theme in a modern setting, the author tells the experiences of six disciples dur- ing the post-resurrection days.

Living under tension—Harry Em- erson Fosdick. Short sermon-like talks on the spiritual adventure of every day living in trying times. The war, injustice and sin are studied in their relation to the chal- lenge to the kingdom of God.

Brave enough for life—Bonaro W. Overstreet. Teaching by example makes this a particularly powerful book. It might well serve as an out- line of suggested reading, as the author inserts references to many titles among her pleasant philo- sophical essays.

On guard—Joseph R. Sizoo. Al- though designed for use by the Army and Navy, this is an excellent aid to all religious readers.

Living prayerfully—Kirby Page. Arranged for Lenten reading from a wide source of poetry, prose and carefully selected prayers.

Prayer—George A. Buttrick. Serious, stimulating summary of the need for prayer today.

Now we must choose—Henry N. Wieman. Our future course in the shaping of a new world, both po- litical and religious.

Can Christianity save civiliza- tion?—W. M. Horton. After frank- ly stating that he does not believe that modern civilization is worth preserving, the author explains his faith that Christianity can serve as a center from which a new and bet- ter civilization will spring.

DEATHS

Killed At Work In Lawrence Cemetery

Joseph F. McDonald, 64, of 37 Railroad street, was instantly killed late Monday afternoon, in the Immaculate Conception cemetery, Lawrence, when crushed by a 1500-pound gravestone which toppled on him from the edge of a grave he was engaged in digging. The last rites of the Catholic church were administered by Rev. Patrick M. O'Shea of St. Mary's church, Lawrence, and a garage wrecker was employed to lift the stone so that the body could be removed.

Mr. McDonald had worked at the cemetery for about ten years, previously he had been employed in the Marland Mills.

He was the third in his family to die in little more than a year, his twin brother, Rev. James A. McDonald, O.S.A., having passed away last January, and another brother, Assistant Postmaster Frank S. McDonald, in October.

He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Augustine's church, and a charter member of Andover council 1078, Knights of Columbus.

Surviving relatives include three sisters, Mrs. William C. Robinson and Misses Mary and Teresa McDonald; three brothers, Postmaster John H. McDonald, William L. and Bernard L. McDonald; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held this morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's church. Rev. Joseph T. Robinson of St. Francis de Sales church, Charlestown, nephew of the deceased, was celebrant; Rev. Mario Arconada, O.S.A., of St. Laurence's parish, Lawrence, deacon; and Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O.S.A., of the local church, sub-deacon.

Seated within the sanctuary were Very Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O.S.A., pastor, and Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., curate of St. Augustine's church; Very Rev. Patrick J. Campbell, O.S.A., Rev. Edward Carney, O.S.A., Rev. Daniel Driscoll, O.S.A., Rev. Charles F. Hart, O.S.A., and Rev. Patrick O'Shea, O.S.A., of St. Mary's church, Lawrence; Rev. Arthur Maxwell, of St. Augustine's church, Lawrence; and Rev. Joseph Conroy, O.S.A., of St. Laurence's church, Lawrence.

A delegation from the Knights of Columbus comprised Edward Doyle, Timothy Mahoney, William Doherty, and Patrick Barrett. A delegation from St. Mary's cemetery, Lawrence, was also present.

The entire Gregorian mass was played during the ceremony, with Miss Mary Lanigan as organist. Miss Lanigan sang the hymn "Pie Jesu" at the offertory, and Charles O'Neill, "Jesus is Calling," as the body was borne from the church.

The bearers were John McDonald, Robert P. McDonald, Paul C. McDonald, John F. Neilon, William L. McDonald and James Robertson.

Interment took place in the family lot in St. Augustine's cemetery.

A native of England, but a resident of this town for the past 32 years, Cornelius Eldred, 74, died Thursday night at his home of his daughter, Mrs. John Anderson of 199 North Main street. Previous to his retirement, he had been employed at the Tyer Rubber Company.

Surviving besides Mrs. Anderson are three sons, Edward, William, and James Eldred; another daughter, Mrs. John Deyermund; and eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the home of Edward Eldred, 17 Pearson street, with a high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's church. Interment was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Robert George Davey, husband of Lillian P. Davey, died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Willet L. Eccles of Hidden Field. He had lived in Andover for several years.

Private funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, school minister at Phillips Academy, at 3:00 Wednesday afternoon.

This Sober Town

Is it the snow that the poets say 'comes stealing in the night? If it isn't, don't tell John Grecoe, because it came stealing enough the other night to set off his burglar alarm, at 4:30 a.m.

Or rather it was the vibrations of the sidewalk plow that set the delicate mechanism into operation.
Officer George Dufton rushed around to John's house, and John passed over the key to the alarm, with minute instructions as to how the thing should be shut off. If any poet had chanced to talk to John the next morning about the "beauty of the snow-bells," well—poor poet!

Speaking of snow...imagine our surprise, late last Wednesday evening—you remember how warm Wednesday was—to receive a telegram from the Freehold, N. J., Transcript, reading "Understand Jos McQuade of Andover, formerly of Freehold, found dead in snow, if so wire story collect."

Obviously, there wasn't enough snow here to kill an invalid microbe; equally obvious, after a check with the telephone book, street directory, local funeral directors and Town Clerk George Winslow, was the fact that there is or was no Jos McQuade here. The only thing we could do was to telegraph back to Freehold that there was no snow, no Joe and therefore, no go.

Perhaps they meant the Andover in Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, South Dakota or Vermont, all of which are established communities.

Our own Andover is about ten times the size of any one of these hamlets, by the way, so hooray for our side!

* * *

It didn't take long at town meeting to make a fundamental change in our town government. With very little hullabaloo, the street lighting committee was abolished and its functions transferred to the Board of Public Works, a sort of de facto way of making sure that the lighting committee would meet instead of hibernating from March of one year to March of the next. Those responsible for the article weren't too sure that the B. P. W. would be the best board for it, for although they knew that some of the members were interested in lighting in Andover, events of the past year would indicate that some town officials could be more interested in lighting out of town.

A few questions that keep us awake nights: What the difference is between material and materiel... or between Iraq and Iran...why they're calling them "victory measles" now...what would happen if there was an actual air raid during a practice blackout, since the people wouldn't know that they were actually playing for keeps...why J.
Aubrey Polgreen is scratching the initials off his billfold...when Elmer Davis is going to lose that cough...and when Jack Benny is going to stop saying, "I can go along with a gag," when he can't.
